

Armagnac De Montal 1999

What Is Armagnac?

Armagnac is considered to be the oldest spirit produced in France, dating back some six hundred years. De Montal has crafted Armagnac for many years and is considered a modern master.

Armagnac is a grape brandy from the Gascony region of southwestern France. Its closest relative is Cognac, another grape brandy from an appellation located about 100 miles north of Armagnac.

Even though it is related to and often confused with Cognac, Armagnac is very different with regards to its grapes, terroir, distillation, élevage, blending, aromas, tastes and textures. In truth, France's two finest brandies made from wine are not very much alike at all.

Armagnac pre-dates Cognac by about 150 years but never achieved the widespread sales figures that its relatives in the Charente obtained.

Armagnac was one of the first areas in France to begin distilling spirits, but the overall volume of production is far smaller than cognac production and therefore is less known outside Europe. Some joke that the French themselves drink Armagnac and export Cognac (only about 3% of Cognac remains in France).
